Dear U.S. Salaried Employees,

As a result of the 363 sale transaction closing, today we are launching a new company. One of the legal requirements of this process is to offer you employment with the new company. This message serves as your employment offer and by coming to work or receiving your pay from the new GM, you are accepting employment with General Motors Company. Importantly, your length of service carries over into General Motors Company.

Today, we are starting on a new journey with a new company by dedicating ourselves to our customers and the success of our business. Let's build on the best aspects of our past and make the most of this new opportunity.
